GOODRICH TO BE A JUSTICE.

HE IS SAID TO BE SLATED FOR THE AP-PELLATE DIVISION VACANCY.

SUPPORTED BY T. C. PLATT, HE IS EXPECTED TO FILL THE PLACE OF THE LATE CALVIN E PRATT-WHAT THE DEMOCRATS

William W. Goodrich is almost certain, within day or two, to be appointed to the vacancy dn the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, made by he death of Justice Calvin E. Pratt. This indirectly from Governor Morton. This politician stated without any ifs that Goodrich had been deded upon for the place.

The selection of Mr. Goodrich will be due largely to the active advocacy of his cause by Thomas C. Mr. Goodrich has for many years been

Mr. Goodrich has long been recognized as one of the foremost admiralty lawyers of the entry, and now that he has acquired a large ortune, and is beginning to feel the weight of it has been his controlling ambition for a ear or two back to wear the ermine. While the selection of Mr. Goodrich is by no s distasteful to either Jacob Worth or Sheriff attling, it is known that he was not the first of either of them. Worth would gladly have secured this great honor for Samuel T. Maddex, who made a brilliant run for Surrogate last dex, who made a brilliant run for Surrogate last fall against the united nominee of the regular and reform Democrats. Mr. Worth has done all he could in the interest of Mr. Maddox with Governor Morton, but the influence brought to bear on behalf of Mr. Goodrich was too much for him. Sheriff Buttling has done what he could for Huge Hirsh, and the two have been in frequent consultation during the last day or two. Mr. Hirsh has now withdrawn from the race.

Mr. Maddox will now wait for the Judiciary Convention, and it is believed that Mr. Worth will bring his heaviest guns to bear to capture one of the four nominations for him. There is some probability that Mr. Hirsh will likewise attempt to make the race again. A new aspirant for Supreme Court honors has arisen in County Judge Joseph Aspinall. It seems that Mr. Aspinall, having won easily his present position, with its six-year term and $10,000 a year salary, is now desirous for the fourteen-year term and $14,000 salary of the higher bench.

Meantime the Democrats are looking around for vallable candidates. It would seem that the riends of Justice Nathaniel H. Clement have conderable method in their effort to get for him a omination from the Republican Judiciary Conven.

friends of Justice Nathaniel H. Clement have considerable method in their effort to get for him a nomination from the Republican Judiciary Convention. It was learned from trustworthy authority yesterday that Justice Clement's chance for nomination at the hands of the Willoughby Street ring is exceedingly slight, and his friends have thought they could force the Democratic Convention to mominate him if he would come into that convention with the Republican nomination. It may be that Justice Clement's independence has lost him favor with Willoughby Street, but perhaps the most marked opposition to him comes from young Democratic machine lawyers, who have complained that Justice Clement has not been a Democratin giving out those reference cases, which are so much desired by younger legal lights. Justice Brown stands a much better chance because he comes from up the State, where he and his father have been much thought of. As Justice Brown will be accredited to the up-State counties, the local bemocracy can have no opposition to him. Kings County will demand three of the four nominations to be made in the Democratic Convention. It is almost a safe prediction that two of these will be Josiah T. Marean and Thomas E. Pearsail. It seems that Hugh McLaughlin considers that he owes a good deal to Marean for taking the nomination last fail, when the prospects were anything but bright for election, and will reward him with a nomination on a year when there is less likelihood of there being a bolt to local nominations. McLaughlin has long mad it in mind to reward Pearsail for his years of flicility with a place on the bench. He tried to do so in 183, but the people would not have it. Mr. Pearsail will not be solely dependent upon the Democratic boss, because he has a trusted friend in John Delmar, who will have little trouble in swinging Coffey, Ryan and Hayes into line for him. Another man who perhaps may be the third nominee is William B. Davenport would be on the ticket, but there is stubborn opposition to be the has its

The election of justices this fall, as far as the Democrats are concerned, has an especial interest because it is doubtful whether after this year a local Democrat can gratify his ambition to go on the Supreme Court bench for nearly a dozen years to come. The only vacancies that are in sight, save from death, are those that will be caused by the expirations of the terms of Justices Osborne and Van Wyck, both of whom have so good standing in Democratic circles that their renomination is almost certain.

The complainant alleges that on September 14 has he became financially embarrassed and borrowed $50 for four months from the Woodball Loan Company, giving in payment notes signed and indersed in blank for an amount aggregating These notes were all dated September 14, and fell due in the following order: October 14, $18; November 14, $17; December 14, $14; January 14, Iso 4:10.

Sovember 14, $17; December 14, $14; January 11, 186, $15.

Chevallier asserts that he has already paid $52, and that Streeter, as proprietor of the loan company, has attempted to collect the last note by the seizure of not only the chattels covered by the horizage he gave to the loan company, but by other property as well, belonging to his wife. In this property were included wedding presents, knick-anacks and other brie-a-brac, which she had owned before her marriage. When arraigned, Streeter declared that he did not know the complainant, never had any dealings with him, did not know anything about the case, and was not connected with the Woodhall Loan Company in any way. He entered a plea of not guilty, and got an adjournment to procure counsel. Mrs. Chevallier also made a complaint against the person who carried away her wedding presents.

A LARGE NUMBER OF BROOKLYNITES A PATROLMAN AND A STABLE-BOY STRICKEN YESTERDAY.

HORSES SUFFERED AS WELL AS MEN-LABORERS OBLIGED TO STOP WORK

The average Brooklynite did not stop to look at the thermometer yesterday. Neither did he dake any stock in the statement made by the unfeeling officials of the Weather Bureau that the day was not a "record breaker" so far as heat and humidity were concerned. In the language of Josiah Allen, he "knew a darned sight better." In addition to his own limp collar, starchless cuffs and generally bedraggled appearance, could he not see a crowd of perspiring men and women whose suffering coun-

At least a dozen of the poor animals succumbed to the heat in the City Hall region, and fell on the glaring pavements. One of the most important matters to be reported Monday to the Committee on Organization is the appointment of a special committee to present to the Greater New-York Commission, at its meetings, September 15, and subsequently, the opinions, plans and suggestions of the General Committee. In connection with this special committee, in connection with this special committee, a sub-committee on legislation will be appointed, the duty of which will be to have the views and suggestions of the General Committee Incorporated in the charter of Greater New-York. Failing to secure such incorporation of their views in the charter this sub-committee will work through the State Legislature to have their suggestions embodied in the final draft of that instrument.

Joseph R. Clarke, the president of the Board of Aldermen is a firm believer in the principle that there should be less centralization of power in the Mayor's hands than the rough draft of the charter calls for, and a greater amount of it distributed through the several districts. For this reason he is in favor of the changes as outlined by the sub-committee.

reason he is in favor of the changes as outlined by the sub-committee.

"On general principles," said he yesterday, "I do not believe in such a wholesale centralization of power in the Mayor as Mr. De Witt's work suggests. I am free to say that the centralization of power in the Mayor's hands would enable Tammany to perpetuate itself in power indefinitely. It seems to me also that it would be wiser for the members of the City Council to be elected by the people rather than to be appointed by the borough representatives, providing the borough plan is retained.

REAL ESTATE.

A BIG DEAL SETTLED-TRANSFERS ON SPECULATION.

The big deal in realty, which has been spoken of in these columns as being under way, was consummated yesterday morning at the office of Frank A. Barnaby, the well-known Montague-st, real estate dealer. The property exchanged was valued at $700,000. It is significant that the recorded transfers are largely for a nominal consideration. Yesterday, for instance, the daily report, as furnished the Register of Deeds, showed twenty-four transfers where the consideration was put down as 'nominal." This has been true for several months, and the explanation given by brokers is that the purchases represented by these transfers are for speculative purposes, and the buyers do not want the actual price known. The reason for this is ob-

NO WRIT FOR MURRAY.

Justice Clement of the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon denied the application of John J. Murray for a writ of mandamus to compel Police Commissicner Leonard R. Welles to appoint him as patrolman. Murray was appointed on January last, on probation, and on July 8 last was relieved from further duty on the ground that he was not competent for permanent appointment. He contered that as no charges were preferred against him he was entitled to be considered a member of the force, and that the Commissioner had no power to remove him. Justice Clement denied the application for a mandamus on the ground that Commissioner Welles has discretion in such cases, and it was in his power to appoint or discharge Murray. A number of others who were relieved from duty about the same time have been contemplating proceedings similar to that brought by Murray. It is doubtful if they will be hertun now. last, on probation, and on July 8 last was relieved

WOUNDED IN A FIGHT.

LIVELY TIMES IN A SHEEPSHEAD BAY HUNT FOR

BURGLARS AND POOTPADS. In a skirmish with three police officers from the Twenty-fourth Sub-Precinct Station at Sheepshead Bay had about 1 o'clock yesterday morning with two supposed burglars, one of the officers, Patrolman Saturday evning, for which a numbr of invitations Joseph Haines, received a pistol wound in the abdomen, and Frank Messenger, nineteen years old, of -hundred-and-sixty-first-st. and Third-ave., New-York, was badly wounded by Officer Coneys.

Earlier in the evening Thomas Kinney, twenty-one years old, of East Thirteenth-st. and Avenue X, was assaulted and robbed by three colored men near the Sheepshead Bay racetrack. Roundsman Coneys and Patrolmen Haines and McGrath, who were detailed to look for violations of the Excise law, had been inon the lookout for the men.

At the hour mentioned these policemen, in citizens' clothing, while standing at Ocean-ave, and Avenue X, saw two suspicious characters. The gaslights go in darkness. The officers commanded the men to halt and started to approach and question them. As Patrolman Haines, who was ahead of the others, approached the men, a negro, who afterward proved to be Thomas Cook, twenty-one years old, of East Fifteenth-st. and Avenue X, pulled a pistol and shot Haines in the abdomen. Cook and his companion, who was Frank Messenger, white, eighteen years old, One-hundred-and-sixty-first-st. and Third-ave., New-York City, started to run in different directions, hoping to reach the bushes and escape.

Roundsman Coneys stopped only long enough to receive the assurance from his fellow officer, who was ng on the ground, that he was not seriously injured, and then started after Cook. He fired several shots at the man, but none of them took effect, and Cook soon disappeared in the darkness. Meanwhile senger. He had shot several times at the man, but Messenger take a circuitous course, by which he was doubling on his track he came face to face with Patrolman Coneys, who immediately ordered him to halt. This warning was not heeded, and the officer, three shots, all of which took effect. Messenger, however, managed to keep his feet, and disappeared in the darkness

Patrolman McGrath had meanwhile summoned a senger and Cook. Messenger was found at last hiding put into the wagon, and both men were carried to the Later, Messenger was taken to the Kings County Hospital, where it was said that his wounds were serious. Patrolman Haines was attended by Police Surgeon Boise, and taken to the Kings County Hospital. Unless blood-poisoning sets in it is not expected that his wound will prove fatal. Cook, who is said to be a member of a daring gang of robbers, was arrested early in the morning by Sergeant Lees and Patrolman Lyman. In the Coney Island Police Court yesterday morning he was held to await the result of Haines's Injuries. Messenger, owing to his severe injuries, was unable to come to court, but is held a prisoner at the hospital. At the hospital last evening it was said that both of the wounded men were resting easily and will recover.

John J. Hyland, the trainer of August Belmont's stables, was a visitor at the hospital yesterday afternoon and inquired after the health of Messenger. He said Messenger had been employed by him for some time as a stable boy. He had been a faithful boy and had never shown a quarreisome or victous nature.

WANT NO BOROUGH SYSTEM

WAYS AND SIMILAR CORPORA-

TIONS SUGGESTED.

A report is to be made on Monday by the nittee on organization of the Greater New-York Commission which, it is said, will embody decided innovations on the "borough system" and other ideas devised by Mr. De Witt. The main features of the report will be the condemnation of the "borough system" and the recommendation of nership, or at least control, of street | keeper in railways and other public corporations, such as the Gas Trust.

Another important suggestion contemplates more liberal control of local affairs for the remoter municipalities, such as Richmond and Queens and municipalities, such as Richmond and Kings counties. There will be other changes recommended, some of them even more sweeping, on the charter as already published.

From what has been learned of the intentions of three members of the sub-committee-Aldermen Doyle, Goodman and Wassmuth, there is little doubt that the report as already agreed upon will be submitted without alteration. It is likely that when the general committee meets on Monday, John P. Windolph, of New-York, will be chosen as permanent chairman. Alderman John Guitfoyle, this city, has been suggested for vice-chairman, and will, in all probability, be elected to the position. Sub-committees will be appointed to take up dif-ferent branches of the work. One will be given charge of the executive and administrative features of the charter. Another will have charge of the financial department, another will consider methods of representation of the different counties and municipalities in the new city, and another will investigate and report on the question of the adjustment of assessments and taxation. All these sub-committees will, of course, report to the General Committee on Legislation.

"As regards local improvements, a strong Republican district might ask for something to which they were justly entitled. The Tammany Mayor, knowing that he would lose nothing politically vetoing such a resolution, would probably play politics, and decide that the city could get along without the necessary improvement. The Municiwithout the necessary improvement. The Municipal Council might override this veto, but they would find it exceedingly difficult to get a four-fifths vote as the charter now contemplates. If the vote required was two-thirds, as it should be there would be more chance. I want to see the clause adopted which shall facilitate the making of local improvements wherever necessary. As to the suggested municipal control, or ownership, of railroads and like public corporations, I believe, on general principles, that it would be beneficial. The scheme is certainly worthy of trial. Foreign cities, such as Glasgow, Birmingham and Manchester, have adopted this plan with highly beneficial results. I see no reason why we in this country should not do equally as well. At any rate, the idea is worthy of adoption, and I believe, if once in operation, there would never be any call by the people for a change."

At about 3 o'clock on Thursday morning the inmates of the Old Field Point lighthouse were startled by a cry for help coming from the direction of the Sound. Hastening to the window, the keeper of the lighthouse saw a light about two hundred yards out. The wind at the time was blowing strong from the east, and such a heavy sea was on that it was impossible to keep a small boot alloat. The cry for help was heard several times, but fainter each time, and in a few minutes the light suddenly disappeared. Every effort was made to answer the voice, but the wind was against the land. No trace of the people or sign of a boat could be found at daylight.
